Comm-Works Achieves Gold Certification from Cisco Systems

MINNEAPOLIS – March 27, 2008 – Comm-Works announced today it has achieved Gold Certification from Cisco® - the highest level in the program. To earn Gold Certification, Comm-Works had to meet rigorous standards for networking competency, service, support and customer satisfaction set forth by Cisco.

“We are very pleased with this achievement,” said Al Lampe, Comm-Works’ president and chief executive officer. “In addition to strengthening our strategic relationship with Cisco, the escalation of our partner status from Silver to Gold is a direct result of our growth strategies initiated by our acquisition of Harbor Technologies in August, 2007”. He continued, “Gold Certification allows Comm-Works to deliver differentiated network and voice solutions to our customers as a full-service solution provider.”

“We are committed to providing the tools, training and programs that help drive partner growth, differentiation and profitability,” said Edison Peres, vice president and chief go-to-market officer for worldwide channels at Cisco. “With specializations in Unified Communications, Routing and Switching, Security, and Wireless LAN, Comm-Works has made an investment in developing the capability to deliver the integrated and customized technology solutions today’s customers demand.”

As a Cisco Gold Certified Partner, Comm-Works has met the requirements for attaining the broadest range of expertise across multiple technologies by achieving the four following Cisco advanced specializations: Unified Communications, Routing and Switching, Security, and Wireless LAN. In addition, Comm-Works has integrated Cisco Lifecycle Services into their offerings and is required to maintain high levels of customer satisfaction. Cisco Gold Certification provides Comm-Works access to comprehensive sales, technical, and lifecycle services training and support available from Cisco.
